United States State Revenue Stamps

JOHN C. OTTO
SPRINGFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS

A CHECK list of the revenue stamps issued by our various States, revised and brought up to date, has been much needed by collectors; and this book is placed before you to supply that want. It has not been our aim to list all the minor varieties and shades possible for the specialist to include in his collection, but to give a list of all the principal varieties such as the average collector would desire. Notes have been inserted throughout, calling attention to the less important differences which can be followed more deeply by those who desire to do so.

Undoubtedly the circular stamps of California are the most difficult to classify and list correctly. It will be noted that all values are listed on several varieties of paper. This may not be correct, but it is known that several values do exist on all of the varieties of paper mentioned, and it is probable that all exist.

The stamps of the other States have not been so difficult to classify, and in most cases we have had possession of the stamps before listing, as well as copies of the laws authorizing their issue.

Many States have used tags to show that the Inspection Tax had been paid upon Feed Stuff and Fertilizer, but for lack of space, as well as definite information in regard to some issues, we have omitted them from this list, trusting that we can include them in some future work.

Thanks are due several of our members for submitting specimens for examination and assisting materially in compiling this list. Special credit should be given Mr. E. R. Vanderhoof for his work on the New York State Revenues.

Through the kindness of the Scotts Stamp & Coin Co. of 127 Madison Ave., New York City, we are able to illustrate the comptrollers surcharges that are found on the California revenues, as they have kindly loaned us the cuts used in the Adanaw Revenue Catalogue, published in 1893.

J. DELANO BARTLETT,

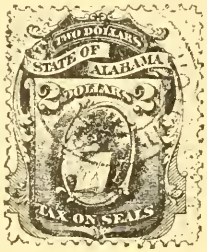
July 20, 1910. Secretary.

ALABAMA

TAX ON SEALS

Law passed Feb., 1867. Law repealed Dec. 3, 1884.

A tax of $2.00 was made upon the Seal of the Clerk of Supreme Court, Comptroller and the Secretary of State, and a tax of $1.00 upon seals of all other public officers who are required to use a seal.



1867. 24 x 30. Engraved, Ornamental design, with shield and old Coat of Arms of State in center. Value at top with "State of Alabama" underneath, "Tax on Seals" at bottom. White wove paper, rouletted.

1 $1.00 vermilion

1868 Same, perforated 12.

2 $1.00 vermilion.
3 $2.00 blue

It is claimed that a $3.00 green exists as an essay, but the law does not provide for the use of such a value, and some believe that it was made for collectors.

FEED STUFF

Laws regulating the inspection of feed stuff and authorizing the issue of three stamps with the values ½c, ¾c and 1c was approved Aug. 26, 1909, and went into effect Dec. 31, 1909. No rate of taxation was given in the law, therefore the Attorney General ruled out that section authorizing the stamp. Whether any of the stamps were issued prior to this ruling has not been ascertained, neither do we know whether the plates were ever prepared.

CALIFORNIA

Law went into effect 1856. Law repealed in 1875?

All of the circular stamps have expressed in the central tablet the amount upon which the stamp pays tax, which differs in the various issues and kinds of stamps. The rectangular stamps which were first issued in 1865 were for use as a general revenue, and the nature of the document determined the rate, therefore it is impossible to give it here.

The various comptrollers issuing the stamps had their initials surcharged upon each stamp before issue. Some do not show this surcharge, but it is believed that such specimens received the surcharge so lightly they are not visible to the eye. The various comptrollers and types of surcharge are as follows:

George W. Whitmann, 1856-1858

A. R. Metoney, 1858-1859

Type I.

Type II.

Type III.

S. H. Brooks, 1859-1861

Type IV.

James S. Gillen, 1861-1862

Gillen served from Nov. 20, 1861, to Jan. 6, 1862. No stamps are known with his initials, but they may exist.

G. R. Warren, 1862-1863

Type V.

Type VI.

Type VII.

George Oulton, 1863-1867

Type VIII.

Type IX.

Robert Watt, 1867-1871—"R.W." single circle.

James J. Green, 1871-1875—"J.J.G." single circle.

We have not attempted to mention just what stamps are known to exist with the particular surcharge, but have given at the close of each set the surcharges to be found on that set. All values may or may not exist with each surcharge. The same can be said of the color of ink used for the surcharge.

Many kinds and qualities of paper were used, but we have listed only those which can be easily identified and placed by all collectors.

We have ignored the mention of all shades, as most of the stamps exist from light to dark.

All the circular stamps were issued imperforated, and those with wide margins and square corners are much desired by collectors. Most of these stamps are found with the corners clipped and even cut to shape of the stamp. While round die cut specimens are not rare, they should not be confused with those cut to shape with scissors. Scissors cut stamps have irregular edges, while die cut are smooth and regular. The circular die cuts exist in several sizes from 25 to 35 mm. in diameter. There also exist some values with saw tooth die cut. These are very rare and seldom seen by collectors. We are not in a position to list these die cuts, as our list would be very incomplete and of little value.

The rectangular stamp also exists die cut as well as rouletted, but we list these as separate varieties.

ATTORNEY AT LAW

1857. 26 x 26. Circular design border containing "California State Tax" in colorless letters, "Attorney" above, "At Law" below central table containing value. Thin blue wove paper imperforated.

Comptroller's surcharge, G. R. W., type VII., in black.

BILL OF LADING

1857. 33 x 33. Circular design border containing "California State Tax" in colorless letters. "Bill of Lading" above. "First," "Second," "Third," or "Fourth" below. Tablet in center containing the amount the stamp was to be used for with value below. Thin bluish wove paper, imperforated.

Comptroller's surcharges, G. W. W., type I., thick and thin letters in blue; A. R. M., type II. and III., in blue, and S. H. B., type IV., in both blue and black.

There have been listed and mentioned at various times the 20c, 60c, $3.00, $30.00 and $300.00, but it is very doubtful whether they exist, as it is thought the chroniclers confused this with some other issue.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE

1857 26 x 26. Circular design similar to the Bill of Lading but somewhat smaller. "Exchange" above in solid letters, "First,"

"Second" or "Third" below in solid letters. Tablet in center containing the amount the stamp was to be used for with value below. Thin white wove paper, imperforated.

POLL TAX

The so-called poll-tax stamps of California are simply designs, similar to stamps with the words "Poll Tax 2 dollars," printed on a poll tax receipt. These can in no way be considered stamps.

STATE REVENUE

FLORIDA

FEED STUFF

Law went into effect Aug. 22, 1905, and is still in force.

Tax rate 25c per ton. Signature of B. E. McLin appears on all these stamps, as he has been Commissioner of Agriculture since Jan. 1st, 1901.

1905. 39 x 23. Engraved by Franklin-Lee Bank Note Co. Dragon head at left with "Inspection Tax" in colorless letters in upper border. Value expressed in pounds. White wove paper, perforated 12.

1	50 lb.	carmine
2	100 "	"
3	125 "	"
4	175 "	"

There is nothing on the face of these stamps to show that they are intended to pay tax upon feed stuff, but the commissioner states that the carmine stamps are for feed stuff and the black for fertilizer.

FERTILIZERS

Law went into effect June 3, 1889, and is still in force. Tax rate 25c per ton. L. B. Wombwell assumed the duties of Commissioner of Agriculture Jan. 1, 1889, and served until his death n 1900. B. E. McLin succeeded him Jan. 1, 1901, and is now serving. The tag system of collecting the inspection tax was used at first for a few months, when stamp were adopted. Stamps used during Wombwell's term had no value expressed. Have been unable to ascertain the dates when the various colors were used, but can only state that they were issued in the following order: Black, green, brown.

1902. 39 x 23. Same as stamps for feed stuff for 1905, except printed in black. (See note under Feed Stuff.) White wove paper, perforated 12.

We note two shades of paper for this set and the feed stuff stamps. One is bluish white, while the other has a yellow tinge.

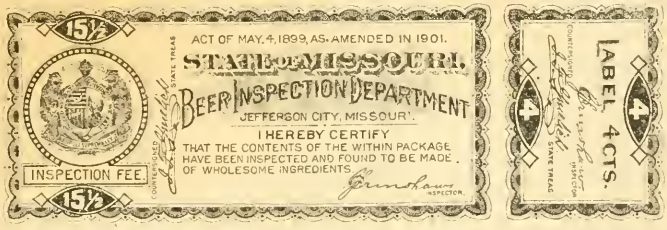
MISSOURI

BEER INSPECTION

Law went into effect in 1901, and is still in force.

The law divided the tax into two parts, one being an inspection fee at the rate of ½c per gallon, and the other a labeling fee of 4c per barrel. The two stamps are joined together and used as one, although each has a separate border and each has the signatures of the Inspector and the State Treasurer. The first set was prepared for barrels containing 32 gallons, but it was soon found that the Missouri brewers were using the 31-gallon barrel, hence a change was made in the value expressed on the inspection stamp. The term of office of the Inspector and the State Treasurer were as follows:

Inspector		State Treasurer
G. Y. Crenshaw,	1899-1907	R. P. Williams,	1901-1905
Ernest Marshall,	1907-19—	J. F. Gmelich,	1905-1909
		James Cowgill,	1909-1913



Reduced in Size

1901. 145 x 47. Lithographed design with scalloped border. Seal of State at left, with figures of value of inspection fee above and below. At right of seal in two lines, "State of Missouri Beer Inspection Department," with certificate below. Signature "G. Y. Crenshaw," Inspector, and "R. P. Williams, State Treasurer. Label at right with similar border, with value at each side. Signature also appears on label. The stamp with no value expressed is without label and is used on beer sent out of the State. Various colored papers, rouletted 6½.

It has been very difficult to secure information in regard to these stamps. We note that "James Cowgill" was elected State Treasurer for the term from Jan. 1, 1909, to 1913, and presume there is a set containing his signature, but have been unable to verify the assumption.

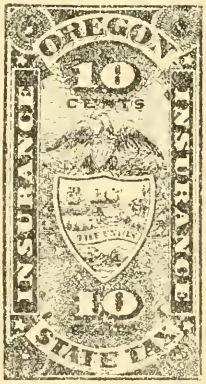
OREGON

Insurance

Law approved Oct. 24, 1870. Law repealed Feb. 25, 1887. Tax rate is as follows: Premium less than $10.00=10c; premium over $10 and less than $20.00=20c; premium over $20.00 and less than $50.00=50c; premium over $50.00 and less than $100.00=$1.00. On all sums over $100.00 the additional rate of 17% was charged. The stamps of the issue of 1870 and 72 were lithographed and printed by A. L. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, Cal., while those of the 1873 issue were made by A. Anderson & Co., of Portland, Ore.



1870. 27 x 51. Lithographed. Eagle with shield on breast, mounted on larger shield containing seal of Oregon. On each side word "Insurance," above the eagle "Oregon," below seal "State Tax," value above and below. The shield on the eagle's breast points to the left of the center of the shield below. Steamer is headed to left. White wove paper, imperforated.

In the 20c the shield containing the Seal of the State nearly touches the figures of value 20. In the 50c the two leg-shaped ornaments under the large shield is longer. In the $1.00 the top of the S of Insurance at right is too large. Paper is rather soft and thicker than previous issues. Perforated 11½.

24	20c	yellow green
25	50c	blue
26	$1.00	carmine

This set appeared in the year before the law was repealed, and we have never seen a used copy. It is reported that the plates of the 1873 issue were, at the time the law was repealed and are still, in the hands of private parties, and that reprints have been made. Some believe that the last set described are reprints, but we have no proof to that effect. They appear to be just as scarce as the previous issue.

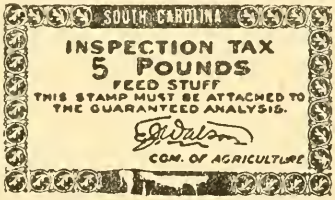
SOUTH CAROLINA

Feed Stuff

Law went into effect May 1, 1910, and is still in force.

Tax rate 25c per ton. As the law was not passed until Feb. 25, 1910, it gave the Commissioner of Agriculture only four weeks to secure stamps as required. The lithographer was hurried and many mistakes occurred, yet the stamps were delivered in proper time. The most important mistake was that wrong money values were printed in the lower border, which placed the rate of tax at 20c per ton instead of 25c. The Commissioner would not permit these stamps to go out and all were destroyed, the value in the lower border gouged out of the plates and a new supply printed, showing the pound value only. These stamps were used less than a month, while new plates were being made with the correct money value expressed. Another mistake is that three of the values exist téte béche.

Signature of E. J. Watson appears on all stamps.



1910, May 1st. 45 x 26. Lithographed border with "South Carolina" above and an irregular break in border below. Inscription in center giving value in pounds. White wove paper. The 5-lb. and 10-lb. are imperforated, while the other values are rouletted 7.

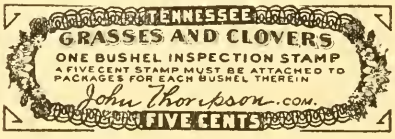
Two qualities of paper used, the first being rather heavy, while those in use now are quite thin. A crescent is found under P of Package.

GRASSES AND CLOVERS

Law went into effect June 1, 1909, and is still in force.

Tax rate 5c per bu., with clause that $\frac{1}{2}$ bu. be taxed 3c and $\frac{1}{4}$ bu., or less, be taxed 2c. Signature of John Thompson, Commissioner.



1909. 53 x 17. Lithographed. Same design as for Cereal Seed with inscription "Grasses and Clovers." White wove paper, perforated 12.

1	2c	¼ bu.	green
2	3c	½ bu.	"
3	5c	1 bu.	"
4	10c	2 bu.	"
5	12½c	2½ bu.	"
6	35c	7 bu.	"

As in the Cereal Seed, these stamps were printed on both thick and thin paper and have the crescent.

Feed Stuff

Law went into effect June 1, 1909, and is still in force.
Tax rate 20c per ton. Signature of John Thompson, Commissioner, appears on all stamps.

1909. 44 x 25. Lithographed. "Tennessee" in upper border, value in lower, value in pounds in center. White wove paper, perforated. A, with crescent. B, with star.

				A	B
1	½ mill	5 lbs.	rose		x
2	1 mill	10 lbs.	carmine	x
3	¼c	25 lbs.	green	x
4	½c	50 lbs.	blue	x
5	¾c	75 lbs.	brown	x	x
6	1c	100 lbs.	black		x

The first printing was on heavy paper, while the later ones are on very thin paper. It will be noticed that some stamps contain a star above I of the Inspection, while others have a crescent below J of John. These are printer's marks, those with a star being printed by one firm, while the crescent represents another.

Dear Will

I am revising the list of Missouri Beer stamps and wish you would send me a list of all that you have in your collection. Full sets of each signature do not exist. While in St Louis I got some information which were very valuable to me yet there were some things that I could not find out.

The "No Value" stamps was for beer. ~~Etc~~ sent out of the state and they have never been issued with any other signature except Crenshaw & Williams. These are still in use. So you see

Nos 6 & 11 in Revenue book does not exist

The 3/5 & 1¢ does not exist except with Crenshaw & Williams

If you will send me a list of yours as soon as possible I will complete my lists and send you the revised

Sometime when you get a chance wish you would send me a list of what you have of all the New State revenues you have and I will see what I have that you need. It is impossible for me to carry it in my mind.

Accept the No. 8 Tax stamp with compliments. The one with Wilder signature was never placed in use but are interesting as only a limited number was marked "sample" and given away I have the copies and know the
